Economic Development Briefing Presented by Steve Miller & Holli Baumunk

TOPIC: Why do companies like Echostar and First Data choose metro Denver? Why did Boeing and eBay pass? Find out the answers to these compelling questions and more, and learn about the launch of the Breakthrough Denver! Challenge at this economic development briefing.

SPEAKERS:

Stephen Miller is the Executive Director of the CTEK Venture Center at Stapleton, a development center for early-stage technology companies. He is also Founder and Principal of RE/Econ Consulting, an economic development consulting firm, whose clients include the City of Lone Tree and Forest City Stapleton. He previously served as an economist for the State Of Colorado and for the Southeast Business Partnership. He received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Economics from the University of Denver, and a Master of Public Administration degree from The University of Colorado.

Holli Baumunk is Director of Economic Development for the Metro Denver Economic Development Corporation. She is responsible for business recruitment and retention, public policy development, commercial and industrial land use, economic impact modeling, and demographic research. Before working at the Metro Denver EDC, Holli was Vice President at the Jefferson Economic Council (JEC) for seven years. Prior to JEC, she worked in several other economic development capacities including working under Governor Roy Romer as the Front Range Business Development Representative for the Colorado Office of Business Development and the Director of the South Metro Denver Chamber of Commerce's Economic Development Group. Holli is a Denver native and she received her Bachelor of Science degree in Business from the University of Colorado. She is also certified as an Economic Development Finance Professional by the National Development Council.

JOB POSTINGS ON THE CHAPTER WEBSITE

The Denver Centennial Chapter strives to be a valuable resource to all of our members. With this in mind, the chapter has been developing an employment area on the website with job postings. Check out new postings by visiting the chapter web site at www.denverima.org, and click on the "Employment - Job Postings" link. Over the past month there have been over twenty jobs listed by various employers and recruiters. Employers interested in posting a position please send an email to webmaster@denverima.org. In your message please include the title of the position, job description, qualifications, and an email contact.

An Invitation to Volunteer To Support the Mile High Chapter Of the American Red Cross

The Fat Tire Classic represents the largest fundraiser for your local American Red Cross. Last year, the Mile High Chapter provided assistance to more than 494,000 people by helping them recover from disasters, teaching health and safety courses, providing emergency communications to loved ones in the military and driving individuals to and from vital medical appointments.

The IMA has supported the Fat Tire Classic for over 10 years with volunteers, in 2004 over 20 volunteers.

Breakfast has been the primary assignment plus we have taken on others: Beer Security – Logo Store – Lunch - Dinner.

The Fat Tire Classic at Winter Park June 24, 25 & 26, 2005 is a mountain bike pledge ride and hike that combines food, fun and fabulous vistas to give participants of all levels an unparalleled experience. Back at the base area, participants enjoy delicious meals throughout the weekend and opportunities to visit the Fat Tire Classic Logo Store, vendors, demonstrations and a massage tent. Another very popular part of the weekend is the Saturday Night Celebration featuring live music and complimentary New Belgium beer.

Volunteers make this an incredible event for more than 2,500 participants. In addition to heartfelt thanks from your American Red Cross, you receive

- A Weekend in the Colorado Rockies! Get away to beautiful Winter Park, Colorado. Enjoy the breathtaking views and clean mountain air.
- Saturday Night Celebration! Join us for the Saturday Night Celebration.
- Fat Tire Classic volunteer T-shirts are provided for you.
- Free Lodging is available if needed!
- Free Meals for Volunteers!

The Inside Track

The climb up the corporate ladder for accounting professionals may be a little easier these days, according to a recent survey by Accountemps. Sixty percent of executives polled said companies are more likely to promote from within today than they were three years ago. To ensure your company retains the talent it needs to succeed, internal recruiting – should be an integral component of your hiring strategy.

Knowing you have a policy of hiring from within the organization encourages employees to take greater ownership of their work.

This will result in enhanced morale and productivity, as workers will be more motivated when they see that their employers value loyalty and reward outstanding performance. You'll also demonstrate that you're interested in helping them advance in their careers and gain new skills and experience.

The first step in setting up a successful internal hiring program is to develop an effective method for spreading the word about job openings. Corporate intranets are an efficient way to communicate opportunities. You also can post notices on bulletin boards in break rooms or publish them in employee newsletters. The key is ensuring that everyone knows where to find the information.

You'll also need to develop job descriptions that
